

3. Respect The Insect

lyrics by Matt Levin/ music by Tom Knight

I crawl, I fly, I've got a compound eye
my brothers, my sisters, my cousins and I.
A couple pairs of wings, and six legs.
All of us were hatched from eggs.

CHORUS: Respect the insect

Respect the insect

We're everywhere you go

We help your flowers grow

Respect the insect

I've got chitin on my body like a thin armored shell,
a head a thorax, an abdomen as well.

I don't have any voice but I got a sense of smell.

Pheromones communicate what I have to tell.

CHORUS:

Bridge

I crawl, I fly, I've got two antennae

Hear my wings buzz as I fly by.

My life span lasts just about a year.

Most of us are friendly but some steer clear.
